

Health at Work Network

Dr Alina Morhan MD MFOM
South Central Board Representative

Alina is the Lead Consultant Occupational Physician at Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust.

Alina is particularly interested in the areas of quality improvement and health surveillance.

She cites her role as a Network Board Representative as being instrumental in better understanding the breadth of occupational health work across the NHS. At a regional level, Alina finds the sharing of challenges and successes with colleagues and other members to be very rewarding.